

HIGHWAYMEN HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Cases Will Be Presented at October Term of Court—Death Sentences Possible.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Alexandria, Va., August 23.—George Morris, William Jones and Arthur Johnson, all colored, charged with holding up at the point of a pistol and robbing Stephen H. Fegans, an insurance agent of Del Ray, Alexandria County, last Tuesday at Barcroft, Alexandria County, to-day following a preliminary hearing before Police Justice R. Gordon Finney, were held for the action of the grand jury.

Their cases will be presented to that jury at the October term of court at which time they will be tried. Immediately following their trials in that county, they will be taken to Fairfax County, where they will then be made to face the charge of holding up and robbing Irving Stout, a railroad telegrapher, and also holding up and attempting to rob Charles E. Corgan, an attorney of this city, who lives in West End.

The prisoners to-day in court were positively identified by Mr. Fegans as his assailants. He also identified a gold watch valued at $65, which was taken from them, together with a fountain pen and pocket knife. These articles were taken from the man giving the name of Jones.

Charles E. Corgan identified Jones as the man who struck the girl in the face and commanded him to halt, whereupon he ran away and escaped the clutches of the highwaymen.

Commonwealth's Attorney Captain Granda Mackey stated to-day that the offense with which the prisoners are charged is punishable with the death penalty, this being within the discretion of the jury. The minimum prison term is eight years and the maximum is eighteen years.

Johnson said his correct name is James Rountree, and that he has a sister named Elvira Rountree living in Washington, whom he thinks will come to his assistance. The two other prisoners claim they have no relatives in the world. Court will assign counsel to defend them.

Lady Rocksavage, Nee Sassoon

London, August 23.—The recent marriage of Lord Rocksavage to Miss Sassoon, of Park Lane, is still one of the main topics of conversation in London society circles. There is much speculation as to why this couple was married in a registry office. The explanation is that mixed marriages cannot be performed in a synagogue, and the mother and father of the bride were very strict Jews, especially the mother, and out of respect to her memory, Miss Sassoon did not wish to be married in a Christian church.

When Lord Rocksavage and the late Lord Battersea married into the Rothschild family, although their brides did not become Christians, the marriages were celebrated according to the rites of the English Church and another ceremony was performed in a registry office. When the Duke of Cornwall and the Prince de Wagram married sisters of the present Baroness Rothschild their brides had previously become Catholics, and the weddings were celebrated in a Catholic church.

Lady Rocksavage is an exceptionally clever woman, and is enormously wealthy. Since the death of her parents she has lived with her brother in a great Park Lane mansion built by Barney Barnato, famous during his life for the extraordinary statues adorning the outside of the house.

Lord Rocksavage, when he succeeds to the title held by his father, Marquis of Cholmondeley, will hold one of the most ancient offices in England—lord great chamberlain.

THANKS WILSON FOR HIS GOOD WORK

Universal Peace Congress Commends Him for His Efforts.

The Hague, Netherlands, August 23.—The twentieth Universal Peace Congress held its closing session in the Knights Hall to-day. The delegates voted to hold the next congress at Vienna in 1914, and it was decided to take to that congress the invitation of the Mayor of San Francisco to hold the 1915 congress at San Francisco.

The peace congress finished its labors accordingly, and the delegates returned to their homes. The appreciation of President Wilson's attitude towards peace, and the commendation of his efforts, were communicated by telegram to President Wilson.

The question of the fortification of the Panama Canal was resurrected to-day by Professor Slaven, of Washington, and Professor Slaven, of Colorado, who secured the passage of a resolution asking the United States government not to fortify the canal.

In another resolution delegates expressed their satisfaction at President Wilson's proposal for the submission of disputes which could not be settled diplomatically for investigation by an international committee.

CHARGED WITH THEFT OF RING.

Young Woman of Gloucester Arrested in Lynchburg.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Lynchburg, Va., August 23.—A pretty young woman, who gave the name of Mrs. L. C. Toran and her home as Galveston, Tex., was arrested here this afternoon and charged with the theft of a diamond ring valued at $450 from the H. Silverman Company. It is claimed the woman was being shown a tray of rings, and when she decided not to purchase, a ring was missing. Mrs. Toran was detained, and when turned over to the police a ring was found in her possession, which was identified as the one missing from the tray.

Mrs. Toran said she intended to leave to-night for her home, after a visit with prominent families in and near Lynchburg. Apparently she is about twenty-four years of age. She refuses to talk relative to the charge.

RIFLE CHAMPIONSHIP IS WON BY CLOPTON

Makes Score of 265, and Finish Is Without Sensational Features.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Camp Perry, Ohio, August 23.—Two of the matches completed to-day were the team match for the Herrick trophy and the President's match. The finish in both of these was without sensational features, as the leaders of the first stages held their places.

The Herrick trophy was won by the team from Iowa, with a score of 1,727 out of a possible 1,800; Massachusetts second, with 1,702; U. S. Cavalry, third, with 1,691. The veteran riflemen who formed themselves into a team and entered to shoot, but not for a prize, under the name of "Ester Wasers," made 1,724.

The President's match was won by Captain W. H. CLOPTON, captain of the cavalry team, with a score of 266; C. B. Long, of Massachusetts, second, with 260; G. W. Chesley, the veteran, third, with 259.

The winner of this match is given the title of military champion of the United States, and receives an autograph letter from the President. Captain CLOPTON, the winner this year, is a great shot, having come within an ace of winning this match before, and having one year won the national revolver match. He is a man of fine personality and attractive manners, and has many friends.

The Virginia team went through its regular course of practice to-day and the best information to give out is that the men are holding up to their mark in slow fire at the long range, and are improving steadily in the skirmish run.

Some of the foreigners who are here have abandoned their own rifles and are learning the Springfield, as it is called.

comes more and more apparent that the United States has the premier military rifle of the world.

The revolver team championship was captured by the First Colorado Cavalry, which scored 1,907. Second place went to the First Cavalry, New York, with 2,115.

The Evans skirmish match was won by Oklahoma, Oregon's team was second, and Alabama third.

The twenty-two high men in the National Rifle Association matches who are eligible to compete for the Palma team next week were announced this evening. Massachusetts has seven, Ohio three, the eight leaders are George Chesley, Connecticut; A. B. Drum, Marine Corps; Sergeant Kean, Massachusetts; Colonel Winder, Ohio; John Heasler, Connecticut; Captain K. K. Casey, Pennsylvania; Captain C. O. Erwin, Ohio, and Sergeant Hammond, Marine Corps.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Doswell, Va., August 23.—A house party, chaperoned by Mrs. Lott, at the Pierce residence, has been the centre of attraction in this neighborhood for the past month. The enjoyable event will close September 1. A dance, in which many visitors participated, was a notable feature to-night. Among those in the party are Misses Louise, Nannie, Norma and Hilda Lott, Ethel Ramstetter, Hilda Wells, Helen Binford and Miss Thomas, and Clarence Williams, John Nalentine, Barber Herdman and Charlie Pearson, of Richmond; Miss Helen French, of New York, and Miss Jean Cowell, of Hanover; James and Ray Pierce, of Hanover; St. Clair Shelton, of Millard; and Avin Butterworth, of Millford, were recent "alters."

If this experiment proves satisfactory, the entire system will be equipped in like manner.

FARM EXPERTS TO MAKE WEEK'S TOUR

Southern Railway and Associated Companies Will Undertake to Teach Practical Farming.

Under the auspices of the department of farm improvements of the Southern Railway, and Chesapeake Steamship Companies, a special train bearing agricultural experts will pass through a number of counties of the State next week, for the purpose of teaching a course in practical farming. Mass-meetings, to which are invited all residents of the county, will be held in the local halls, where lectures showing how a better crop yield can be obtained and demonstrations will be given.

Many prominent lecturers and scientific men have been engaged to carry out the work. Professor T. C. Johnson, of the Virginia Truck Station, will deliver addresses on the many truck and garden crops. George W. Kolner, commissioner of agriculture, will be with the party at several of the meetings. Invitations have been extended to the United States department and State agents, engaged in farm demonstration work, who will lecture on practical or scientific farming.

The prime object of the tour is to educate the farmers in the advanced methods of agriculture, in order that a larger yield to the acre of a crop will be obtained. The growing of corn, wheat and other products, which are raised in large quantities in Virginia, will be discussed. Agents of the company will give personal attention to any farmer desiring it free of charge.

Just Enough Athletics

Bingham Military Training Made Son Prompt and Orderly.

Alta Vista, Va., June 13, 1913. Col. Preston Lewis Gray, Bingham School, Mebane, N. C.:

Dear Colonel Gray.—It is a very great pleasure to tell you how well pleased I am with my son's progress while at your school.

Charlie has been very much benefited physically, for your school has just enough athletics to keep the students in good physical trim.

I am sure very much pleased with the religious training he received. I looked over the Bible examination, and was very much surprised at the complete thoroughness of this course.

The military training has made him prompt and orderly. All this and the excellent education he has received there have made a man of my boy.

Colonel Gray, I want to thank you and Mr. Gray for the personal interest you have taken in my son. He tells me that you all take the same interest in the boys that you would in your family. I think this is one of the greatest things that can be said of any school, for if a boy ever needs home influence it is just when he leaves home and goes off to school.

Give my regards to Mrs. Gray, and if you come to Virginia, be sure to stop by and see us.

Yours very truly,
L. A. McCUTCHEN.

INFANT DROWNED IN FOUR INCHES OF WASTE WATER

Falls Into Bucket While Mother Is Conversing With Neighbor in Adjoining Room.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Roanoke, Va., August 23.—The year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Brown, of Roanoke County, met a tragic fate late yesterday afternoon when she was drowned in a bucket containing probably four inches of waste water, while her mother and neighbor sat chatting in an adjoining room.

Mrs. Brown was in her dining-room talking to Mrs. Woods, a neighbor, who lives near-by and who had just called. While they were busy in conversation, the infant toddled into an adjoining room. No attention was paid to her movements until a few moments later her little brother rushed in and said his sister was in the bucket.

Mrs. Brown and her caller rushed into the room and found the child had tipped over into the bucket and was unconscious. They grabbed the little one up and rushed to the home of Mrs. Woods, where, for a quarter of an hour or more, they tried every known means of resuscitation.

In the meantime, Dr. J. C. Darst, who lives near-by, was summoned, but life was extinct when he reached the scene.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va., August 23.—To await the arrival of her master, the yacht Noma, owned by Vincent Astor, sailed to-day for Annapolis. Young Astor, now on board the battleship Utah, is expected to reach Annapolis early tomorrow. He will board the Noma in the afternoon, and sail immediately for the coast of Maine, where he is scheduled to spend several weeks. The Noma has been anchored in the harbor for several days awaiting word from her owner.

A wireless message was received to-day telling Captain Dunbar to proceed to Annapolis to await the arrival of the Utah. The Utah is with the Atlantic fleet, which is to-night approaching the Virginia capes. The ship is expected to steam up the bay about daylight to-morrow morning, and will reach Annapolis about noon. Each of the dozen ships has a number of midshipmen on board. They will be put ashore at Annapolis, and the fleet will return to Hampton Roads to prepare for target practice.

ELKS' HOME WILL STAY IN VIRGINIA

Building Committee Soon Will Begin Operations on Structure at Bedford City.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Bedford City, Va., August 23.—Superintendent C. L. Mosby, of the Elks National Home, received a telegram this afternoon from an official of high rank that the building committee, after examining the inducements offered by Bedford, Indiana and other homes, has decided that the home shall be continued at Bedford City.

This intelligence is very gratifying, as there has been a stiff fight made by a number of other places for the home.

Seven out of eight of the committee decided in favor of retaining the home at its present location. It is supposed that building operations on the new home will be begun as soon as practicable.

Half of the residents have decided to remain with the management where ever they may select, the others will accept an income of a dollar a day and return to their homes or wherever they choose during the building, which will require a year or more.
